

BPW Leadership Training for Women

Target group:

We want our members to be successful leaders both in BPW and the corporate world. Therefore, we have specially developed a new leadership training program for women in leadership positions and for ambitious women who want to take the next step in their professional career.

Goals:

This inspirational and practical program empowers women in achieving their personal and professional goals and enhancing their management and leadership skills.

Content:

The training consists of 3 topics with 14 modules in total.

It starts from the individual level (Me as a Leader), includes team processes (Me and My Team), and then continues with the organizational level of leadership (Organizational Leadership).

The comprehensive view and the special setting of a female only group, make this program unique and offer an empowering environment for current and future women leaders.

BPW Leadership Training for Women is a 2-day seminar. Practical exercises – case study analyses, role plays, impromptu presentations – are part of these intense and fun training days! Networking and sharing best practices add value for participants.

The program is developed by an international team of highly experienced trainers who are all BPW members.

Facilitators:

- Conny Montague
Chair BPW European Taskforce
„Leadership & Lifelong Learning“
- Dr. Sabine Küsters
BPW European Taskforce
„Leadership & Lifelong Learning“

The program is developed in cooperation with BPW International Taskforce „Leadership & Lifelong Learning“.

Topics and Modules

Me and My Team

Organizational Leadership

Topic 1: Me As a Leader - This module gives you the opportunity to learn about your own leadership qualities. You will discover the key factors of successful leadership and learn what others expect from leaders – personal strengths as well as overcoming obstacles.

Topic 2: Me and My Team - This module is about managing and growing teams, and about giving and receiving constructive feedback as leaders. It also looks into motivation, communication and conflict management skills, as well as into some intercultural awareness issues.

Topic 3: Organizational Leadership – In this module you will learn about you in organizations, how to manage change, communicate effectively, get a position on boards as well as sponsoring and mentoring techniques.

Learn about the different aspects of leadership and develop your own personal leadership style!
